About WLDragnet Custom Reports

In October 2021, Talk Liberation published 1500+ reports and a repository of 7,100+ files proving US military contractors and weapons manufacturers are utilizing open-source intelligence to track and analyze the social media conversations of persons, hashtags, keywords and topics of political consequence, effectively creating target lists.

Featured in the target lists are whistleblowers, journalists, activists, and thousands of regular citizens seen either as influential or as network 'connectors' or 'bridges'.

Each target list contains a series of 'Top 10' rankings, listing handles according to various metrics. Top replied to, top mentioned, top keywords and other metadata including links shared, domains referenced, and wordpairs used by each sub-group, appear in the lists.

The files can be onerous to manually search through and difficult to understand, so Talk Liberation created a more high-level and stripped-down view: the WLDragnet Report Search.

This makes it easy for Twitter users to find out if they have been targeted, and in what context. They can then click through to the relevant sources for the full picture. To support this project please subscribe here.
